L.A. Log Reading

This week we read the story Red Eyed Tree Frog. This was a nonfiction story about where frogs live, what they eat, and how they sleep. Keep encouraging your child to read at home because the more practice they get the better their reading will become. I have so many students that have turned in a bunch of reading logs. Keep up the great work! Students need 5 reading logs turned in by the end of the year. Please make sure you are practicing the sight words that your child doesn't know each night.

Writing

We reviewed what we learned about Dr. King last week and used that information to write an expository paragraph about his life and accomplishments. We used a timeline to put important events in chronological order and the students wrote their own wrap-up sentences explaining his importance in our history.

Reminders

- Thank you so much for all of the donations to our 100th day piece snack. We celebrated our 100th day on Thursday with lots of stations, such as math games, drawing what we would look like at 100, and writing what we wanted to accomplish by 100. The kids had a blast celebrating.
- In our One School One Book Masterpiece by Elise Broach we read chapters 6-12 this week in class. All of the chapters that we have read so far are recorded and available on Oakland's website for you to watch at home if you would like.
- Join us for our next Masterpiece event on Friday, February 7th. The note about the First Friday Art Gallery Tours is attached to the newsletter.

REMEMBER TO READ AT LEAST 20 MINUTES EACH NIGHT!
